

THE INFINITE AND FINITE CONSCIOUSNESS

The infinite consciousness encompasses and inspires the finite consciousness. Finite consciousness, amongst others human consciousness, cannot encompass infinite consciousness.

HUMAN BEING

The human is the (finite) form of the being, which is formless and is infinite. When the human is aligned with the being, it knows how to discern and not judge, it is in the position to make choices in the interest of the Whole and in the All ("thy will be done")

(LIMITING) FILTERS

By the grace of the phenomenon of resistance (+ -) the finite (time/space) exists and so the phenomenon of creation.

HEART

Hearts are doorways to infinite consciousness. The heart functions optimally when we allow ourselves to be in-formed by the dynamic, balanced use of the mental as well as the feeling/intuitive faculties. The heart is the doorway to enlightenment.
